Berlin Admits Reds Split Line

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 5 (AP)—A German military spokesman admitted today that the Nazi winter defensive line on the eastern front had been split by a "very deep penetration," dispatches from the German capital said.

The spokesman was represented as making no effort to hide the fact that the Russian offensive had rolled up the German defenses in the Kiev sector, splitting the lines into two fronts, one 360 miles and the other 480 miles long.

The correspondent said they were given a black picture on both sides of Germany as they met with the spokesman in the bomb-damaged foreign office with fires still blazing in Berlin from the heavy RAF raids of Sunday and Monday.

TWO TO GO—With 25 Jap planes to his credit, Marine Maj. Gregory Boyington of Okanogan, Wash., has only two more to go to set a new record. He commands a fighter squadron in the Pacific which has accounted for more than 61 enemy planes in only two hours of duty.

Nazis Reveal New Retreat in Ukraine

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—German troops have evacuated the eastern section of Berdichev, railway town 25 miles south of Zhitomir that once was German Ukrainian headquarters, the Nazi high command announced today.

Loss of at least part of Berdichev was acknowledged as Red army forces smashed down through the middle Ukraine, taking the fortress of Belaya Tserkov, 50 miles below Kiev, in a drive seeking to trap more than 500,000 Germans in the great Dnieper river bend.

German defenders of Berdichev beat back Soviet attackers against other sectors of the town, the German command declared.

Berlin asserted also that "repeated and strong" Russian attacks had been thrown back south and west of Zhitomir, and that Soviet attempts to retake recent German gains northeast of Vitebsk farther north likewise had failed.

The Berlin radio spoke of fighting of "unabated ferocity," and Moscow dispatches declared the great battle to drive the Nazis from the Dnieper bend had begun, with the enemy fighting desperately to hold his lines of communication.

The Germans in the Dnieper bend were clearly in growing danger.

Advices from Moscow indicated that these German forces, already outflanked from Kiev as far south as Cherkasy by the capture of Belaya Tserkov and 40 other Ukrainian towns, faced the same fate as that met by the army which surrendered at Stalingrad unless Marshal von Mannstein can extricate them by a mass retreat across the Bug river into Rumania.

Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore reported from Moscow that Marshal Von Mannstein's troops battled desperately to hold back the Russians from seizing lines of communication.

At the northern end of the southern front, where other Soviet troops had crossed the pre-war Polish frontier west of the customs station of Olevsk, fierce German counter-attacks were smashed yesterday by units of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's First Ukraine Army. Here, said a broadcast Russian communique, 4000 Nazis were killed and 65 tanks destroyed as Vatutin's veterans pushed forward into the western Ukraine.

Far to the north, Gen. Ivan Bagramian kept up his incessant battering against the northern wing of the German armies guarding the Baltic front. Another 1100 Nazies were killed north of Nevel, 100 enemy-held villages were liberated and the 40-mile Nevel-Velikie Luki rail line cleared of Germans, the Soviet war bulletin declared. Izocha, 10 miles north of Nevel, and Pleshkova, 20 miles to the northeast, were among the strongpoints listed as overrun.

INVASIONS SAP POWER OF JAPS

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 5—On the basis of eyewitness observation of all three amphibious landings, which Sixth Army forces have made—at Arawe, New Britain, Dec. 15, Cape Gloucester, New Britain, Dec. 26, and Saidor, New Guinea, Jan. 2—it is safe to say the Japanese are on the defensive throughout the Southwest Pacific. In fact, they're almost on the run.

With the exception of one small diversionary raid at Arawe which suffered heavy losses, all three invasions were accomplished virtually without opposition.

Since those landings, only the opposition at Cape Gloucester has been worth mentioning. There, today's advices from headquarters of Gen. MacArthur told of Marines, attached to the Sixth Army, killing 200 enemy soldiers Monday in shattering a counter-attack made in the Borgen Bay area. Approximately 1500 Japanese have been slain at Cape Gloucester since the invasion.

The character of the opposition on the whole reflects credit on the intelligence sections of the various services which chose the sites where the Japanese were expected to be weak.

Gen. Montgomery's Successor on Job

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—The successor to Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery as commander of the British Eighth Army is already in the field.

A dispatch today from the Canadian front in Italy said the name was being withheld for security reasons. Montgomery has arrived in London to assume duties as commander of British ground forces in the western invasion command.

5TH AND 8TH MOVE AHEAD IN ITALY

By PIERRE J. HUSS

ALGIERS, Jan. 5 (INS)—Allied armies in Italy moved up at both ends of the transpeninsular front today in preparation for assault on the main Nazi defenses barring two highway routes to Rome.

Headquarters reported Fifth Army troops on the western sector advanced more than a mile west of Venafro to seize a 2300-foot height dominating the Nazi-held bastion of San Vittore blocking the road to Cassino and Rome.

Indian troops of the British Eighth Army moved forward several hundred yards in the Adriatic area to capture new positions on a ridge a mile southwest of Villa Tommaso.

Spearheads of the Eighth struck to within one mile of the German stronghold to Tollo, which was taken under artillery fire.

Along the coast road Canadian units of the Eighth battled bitter counterattacks three miles above Ortona and nine miles south of Pescara.

There was active patrolling on several other sectors of the front where the weather continud cold.

Capital Plane Crash Kills 2

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—An Army plane crashed and burned in a vacant lot in Congress Heights, Washington residential district, today. Police reported two persons aboard were killed.

Hear Gunfire in Channel

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—A brisk 10-minute cannonading in the English Channel, apparently between light naval forces, roused residents of the English east coast before dawn today.

RECUPERATING — Gypsy Rose Lee, the author and showgirl, is reported recovering from an attack of the "flu" at Ft. Bragg, N. C., post hospital. Arriving Sunday to entertain the soldiers, she was stricken a few hours before the first performance.

BOMBS RUIN HITLER'S CHANCELLERY

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 5 (AP)—A bomb-set fire that burned furiously for four hours after the heavy RAF raid Monday virtually destroyed Hitler's chancellery and left scarcely a room usable, a traveler said today.

A storage tank in Berlin holding 50,000 gallons of fuel for the German air force was destroyed in the last raid, the Free Danish Press Service said.

A Stockholm newspaper reported hundreds of thousands of persons are leaving Berlin daily. Factories have become severely handicapped, with absenteeism reaching 50 per cent in some cases.

The industrial districts of Mariendorf, Lankwitz, Steglitz and Neukoeln are heaps of rubble. Gas, water and electricity still are cut off.

Bombs Rain on France Again

By the Associated Press

Allied planes resumed their violent attacks on the French invasion coast today after a day and night in which bombs were cast upon the German cities of Berlin, Kiel and Muenster and on Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Italy and France.

Probably more than 3000 tons of explosives were dropped yesterday on the Nazis by flights of 3000 planes from Britain alone.

U. S. heavy bombers set great fires at Kiel, northwest German naval and submarine base, and tangled railways 200 miles southwest of Muenster, a communications bottleneck essential to Hitler for defense against the coming invasion. The Germans admitted heavy damage at Kiel and told of a great shroud of smoke hanging over the city.

Wave after wave of planes soanned the channel yesterday in one of the greatest daylight operations of all time. The Allies lost 25 planes, including 18 heavy bombers, and destroyed at least 17 Germar. fighters.

Wooden Mosquito bombers gave Berlin its third raid of the year last night, in lighter measure than the successive 1000-ton blows which ushered in 1944. No plane was lost.

Flying Fortresses of the 15th U. S. Air Force struck a rail bridge and yards at Dupnitsa, 50 miles south of the Bulgarian capital of Sofia. The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau said Sofia also was raided and heavy damage and loss of life resulted. An earlier German report said the planes merely had flown over the capital. (Further details on Page 11.)

Medium American bombers hit rail yards at Doboj, 55 miles from Sarajevo in Yugoslavia, and attacked barracks and troop concentrations at Travnik.

Bad weather curtailed flying in Italy, although fighter-bombers were able to strike at a gasoline dump near Chieti and a rail bridge at Balsorano.

Africa Now Training Center for Invasion

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 5 (AP)—American, British and French troops are training throughout French North Africa for coming assaults across the Mediterranean against the Germans, it was disclosed today.

North Africa was officially described as "one vast training center for troops destined for future operations," with camps scattered throughout Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco.

Realistic training in landing operations is being given at Mediterranean and Atlantic coast centers, while, inland, troops are being trained in battle conditions in the mountains, muddy plains, bogs, swamps and heavy woods.

The Americans and British are newly arrived troops, while the French are those recently rearmed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—Two undernourished and frost-bitten youngsters today are battling for their lives in a local hospital while police questioned the mother who neglected them.

In pitiable condition, the nine-months old son and two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jiro were found whimpering in the Jiros' East Side apartment.

Jiro is being sought.

The tenement was unheated, water dripped through yawning breaks in the ceiling and a chill east wind swept through a wide open window.

The little girl was in her crib, too weak from hunger and cold to make sufficient outcry to summon aid, while her tiny brother was tied by the legs to a couch.

Patrolman Jacob Szerfowski found the children when he forced entrance to the apartment to find the source of the leak that was sending water cascading through the tenement halls.

Taken to a police station, the children were fed and warmed, then removed to a foundling hospital.

Not only was the apartment cold and wet, police said, but absolutely devoid of food. Building superintendent Charles Hacker reported he hadn't seen the elder Jiros since Monday. He said he knocked on the door of the Jiro home Monday night, upon discovering the leak, but received no answer.

Sinatra Heads March of Dimes Youth Drive

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Frank Sinatra has been given the job of enlisting the support of the nation's youth in the 1944 March of Dimes program.

Frank Sinatra

Announcing appointment of the singer as chairman of the campaign's youth division, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today the appeal to youngsters would be made primarily through radio.

Sinatra has made five-minute recordings of six of the foremost hit tunes for broadcast over 900 radio stations, O'Connor said. Each recording ends with a plea for funds.

Pork Rationing Holiday Rejected

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Despite pleas from farm state congressmen, government food officials today rejected a proposed two-week "holiday" in the rationing of pork products.

The Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration declared in a joint report that a survey showed there is no country-wide pork surplus, and that a temporary lifting of rationing might result in "chaotic conditions of supply and distribution," particularly in the East, South and West.

Icy Roads Peril Drivers

Icy roads north and west of Boston caused many a headache for motorists today in the wake of snow flurries, sleet and rain.

State highways were sanded promptly, but streets in communities where the manpower shortage is felt were left icy, resulting in numerous skids and near-accidents.

Somewhat better driving conditions existed in Boston proper and communities to the south, where sanding crews were out early.

Fair skies, with a maximum temperature of 38, were predicted for Boston by mid-afternoon and the mercury is not expected to drop below freezing in the city tonight.

President's Gain Continues

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (INS)—President Roosevelt continued to improve from his attack of the influenza today to the extent that he expected to begin work this afternoon on his annual state of the union address.

However, on advice of Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, his personal physician, the Chief Executive continued to remain away from his office and kept his appointment calendar free of callers.

Dad Lost With Warship:

Only 8, He'll Take Care Of Mother

By ALICE BISSELL

An eight-year-old boy stood at the front door of his Winchester home today while his mother kissed him good-bye, as usual before he went to school.

Little David Kyes trudged off to the Lincoln School, although he had been told by his mother only 15 minutes before that his father, Commander James E. Kyes, 37, had been reported missing in the North Atlantic torpedoing of the U. S. S. Leary, Christmas Eve

On Christmas eve you can imagine how Mrs. Frances Kyes and David were thinking of the commander out at sea, and how they were longing for him.

Today there were scarlet Christmas boots stuffed with holly still hanging on the front door.

They expected him home soon, and wanted to show him that they'd made it a Merry Christmas even without him.

Also on the door was pasted the United War Fund sign . . . "We Care."

And this slogan stared down at the mother and son today as they stood on the steps before David left for school.

David looked at his mother and said solemnly, after long thought (and these are his exact words):

"Mother, I do not think he is coming back. I think he has gone. I think he went down with his ship.

"I will take care of you."

Then he said: "I would like to get the submarine that torpedoed his ship. But I must go to school."

Mrs. Kyes just stood there, because there was nothing to say.

Although she has lived at Washington st., Winchester, for more than two years, both she and the commander are natives of Seattle.

COMDR. JAMES L. KYES
Missing in Leary Sinking

MRS. JAMES L. KYES AND SON, DAVID

TOLD HUSBAND MISSING

Late last night her family called from Seattle to tell her the notification that Comdr. Kyes was reported missing had been sent to them.

She waited until morning to break the news to David.

A month and a half ago, Comdr. Kyes visited his wife and child for a few days. A graduate of Annapolis, '30, he has served 13 years in the Navy and two years as commander of the ill-fated 1090-ton destroyer.

No figures were given of casualties in the loss of the vessel, but more than 160 men were aboard, the Navy announced.

That was all there was to it. Mrs. Kyes just sat there. It was hard for her to tell about the happy days she had spent with him on his last leave.

She just sat there, without words, but able to repeat dreamily the words of little David which were echoing in her mind.

"I think he went down with his ship. I will take of you . . . I would like to get that submarine, but I must go to school . . ."

Over and over she repeated those words, as she sat there, numb with grief.

Board Called To Settle Rail Pay Demands

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt has ordered the reconvening of an emergency board to consider the unsettled wage claims of the 1,100,000 non-operating railroad employes. These claims were not before the board when it recommended sliding scale increases of 4 to 10 cents an hour.

The board, headed by Judge Elwyn R. Shaw of Springfield, Ill., will consider the claims for additional pay, either for or in lieu of overtime.

The non-operating employes refused to accept the President's offer to arbitrate the additional claims except on conditions to which the carriers disagreed. The President and the carriers held that arbitration should consider the sliding scale increases as well as the additional claims, and the employes wanted arbitration limited to the overtime claims.

A White House statement said:

"The Shaw board has been reconvened to consider the unsettled claims for wage adjustments of the non-operating employes which were not presented to them when they made their last report.

"The board is requested to make its report as soon as practicable, but not later than 30 days from date. Their recommendations will become effective 15 days after their report is filed, unless and except to the extent that the economic stabilization director otherwise directs."

DECISION AWAITED—Mrs. Cornelia C. Brandt of Portland, Me., "Miss Maine of 1937," today awaited the court's decision on her divorce suit against Max O. Brandt, former state trooper, now in the Navy. Aid Woman, 84, In Frigid House

Ailing 84-year-old Catherine Clancy is today under medical care after being found in her Linden st., Somerville, home, where in an adjoining room was found the body of her sister, Minnie, 86, who had been dead for the past two days.

Police broke into the house after neighbors reported seeing no sign of activity around the home for several days. In the frigid house they found the elder sister dead in bed in one room and the pitifully weak Catherine in the other.

She told police she had been wondering why her weak calls for aid and food had failed to elicit a response from her sister.

Frankfurter Feud Grows

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (INS)—Observers here believe the Supreme Court feud between Justices Black and Frankfurter is part of a fight to the finish over the next chief justiceship.

Rumor has it that Chief Justice Stone will retire next June.

The Black-Frankfurter feud became public property this week when Black wrote an opinion in a patent case for the sole purpose of denouncing Frankfurter's judicial philosophy. Black said Frankfurter's views constituted "at the least, dangerous business."

Dan Tobin Cites Willkie's Strength

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—Daniel J. Tobin, international president of the Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL), predicts that Wendell L. Willkie will win the 1944 presidential nomination and will defeat the New Deal if the war is ended by election day. He doubt's however, that the war will end so soon.

Tobin said Gov. Dewey of New York would be "a tougher man for the Democrats to beat" in New York State than Willkie, but he said Willkie would be a better candidate in the rest of the nation.

Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen said Ballengee would be granted a reprieve and that he would ask the pardon board for a full pardon.

Maritime Spending Assailed by Aiken

By ELLIOTT HAYES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (INS)—Sen. Aiken (R.) of Vermont today charged the Maritime Commission with such profligate spending full congressional action is needed at once to recoup millions in federal funds and avoid further enormous losses.

Aiken also called for inquiry into past and future transfer of cargo ships to Britain and other United Nations so America will be assured of an adequate postwar merchant fleet.

Any investigation, he said, should cover:

1—Purchase of ocean-going vessels from five to 23 years old at anywhere from 5 to 10 times their admitted value.

2—Purchase of at least nine Great Lake ships having scrap value only at as much as 16 times their book value.

3—Transfer of the fast new Victory C-1 and C-2 ships to other nations instead of the slower Liberty ships. Plans call for transfer of 150 to 200 to Britain alone, Aiken said.

Aiken cited the purchase from the Waterman Steamship Co. of the S.S. West Madaket. This was an 8573-ton ship built in 1918 and sold to Waterman in 1931 for $71,000 after which Waterman put $3000 into it. It has a claim for loss of $684,000 pending, Aiken said, the ship having been sunk after being taken over by the government.

The A. C. Bedford, a Standard Oil ship, was the next instance cited by Aiken. This vessel was built in 1918 for the old United State Shipping Board at a cost of $1,098,759. It was sold to Standard in 1922 for $1,083,307 and taken over in recent years by the War Shipping Administration.

Sullivan Waits Bushnell Data

A second meeting between Police Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan and Atty. Gen. Robert T. Bushnell is scheduled for tomorrow in order that the commissioner can further examine the evidence which Bushnell was prepared to present against the indicted Boston police officials prior to his surprising nol pros.

At that time Sullivan is expected to have with him the attorney he says he will choose to sift the evidence relating to the indictments and advise him as to what course to pursue regarding them.

Meanwhile Deputy Supt. John M. Anderson, one of the indicted officials, was praised by Sullivan as an energetic and intelligent officer in a police order announcing the veteran police officer's retirement. The order was also signed by Supt. Edward W. Fallon.

Support of another of the indicted men, the late Sergt. Arthur Eunson, was given by his attending physician, Dr. Robert H. Veitch.

Dr. Veitch said:

"Sergt. Eunson is dead. He died under the shadow of an indictment, with no presentation of evidence that he had committed a crime. He never had his day in court.

Pay War Veterans Now, New Plea to Congress

"Grant discharged veterans mustering-out pay now—and give them a decent amount!" This was the gist of a new barrage of telegrams fired at Washington today by New Englanders as Congressmen returned to the capital, preparing to reconvene Congress next Monday.

Spokesmen for the most powerful veterans' and patriotic organizations, as well as hundreds of friends and relatives of servicemen and women, united in a fresh demand that Congress not only make mustering-out pay legislation its first business, but that veterans be granted an adequate, respectable amount of pay.

DELAY SENDS DEMANDS

Typical of the new demands sent over the wires from this region was the messaage telegraphed by Massachusetts State Comdr. John J. Delay of the American Legion, as follows:

"Again we ask the House military affairs committee to support immediate legislation providing mustering-out pay for all discharged servicemen and women of World War II. We strongly protest against neglect of wounded, disabled and mentally sick men of the armed forces who have been discharged without provision for care and treatment.

"We of the Massachusetts State Department, American Legion, also protest against the delay by your committee in reporting out a bill which will ably compensate these men.

"Act on the mustering-out bill at once and give these heroes that long delayed Christmas gift which they have so dearly earned."

BENOIT ASKS ACTION

State Commander Frank J. Benoit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was another to call for immediate action, declaring in his telegram to the House Military Affairs Committee:

"There has been considerable tossing about of this measure. A halt should finally be called. You gentlemen owe it to the people of the United States and to those who offered their lives and blood in the present global conflict.

"They need your assistance immediately."

Many of the returning congressmen themselves took a lead in the growing demand that definite steps to aid discharged and disabled veterans be taken without further delay.

One of the latest to speak out was Cong. George J. Bates of Salem, who declared, "The general feeling of the members of Congress is that a bill for mustering-out pay should be presented at once. Something definite should be done, and done quickly. I am

Mother Kills Baby With Stove Poker

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (INS)—A 22-year-old mother unemotionally confessed to police that she beat her two-year-old daughter to death with a stove poker after first claiming she accidentally bumped her head against a door.

The confession came after Dr. C. Mason, coroner's physician, testified at an inquest that the little girl, Claire Merkel, died of multiple contusions and cerebral hemorrhages from head wounds that could not have been caused in such a manner.

After the inquest the state's attorney's office declared the mother, Mrs. Mildred Merkel, finally confessed she had beaten the child. The father, Fred Merkel, 40, was working in a war plant when the beating occurred. The family has two other children, Beverly, 4, and Ronald, 3 months.

Mrs. Merkel first told Dr. Albert J. Kass, the family physician, that she found her unconscious on the bathroom floor.

"When I picked her up," Mrs. Claire said, "I accidentally bumped her head against the door. The child died en route to a hospital.

In her confession, the young mother declared:

"I couldn't help it. The baby had bothered me all evening. As she kept on crying, I suddenly seized the poker and struck her on the head as she lay on the floor."

MRS. HALLIN QUITS SAUGUS SCHOOL BOARD

Planning to spend the greater part of her time away from home, Mrs. Annie Hallin of Saugus, who ran for and was elected to the Saugus School Committee to vindicate her daughter, the late Isabelle Hallin, who had been discharged from her teaching post, has resigned from the committee.

Mrs. Hallin

Mrs. Hallin submitted the resignation to Town Clerk Viola G. Brown, shortly before leaving for Florida to spend the winter.

School Committee Chairman William S. Braid said he did not know she had submitted the resignation but said Mrs. Hallin had intimated she would at the last school committee meeting.

The discharge of Isabelle Hallin from her teaching position caused considerable local furore. The publicity resulted in the attractive girl's receiving many theatrical and modelling offers, and she was working as a model in New York when she died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Lynn Airman Missing

Dies in Vain

DETROIT, Jan. 5 (AP)—Yes, Anita did die in vain, if you look at it that way.

A mound of earth over a 20x15 foot grave hid her 12,000-pound carcass today, and none of her 4000 pounds of fat had found its way into war explosives.

Anita, Detroit zoo's favorite elephant, had to be buried because a fat rendering plant couldn't get a crew to the zoo in time.

ASKS ALLOWANCE — Mrs. Polly Abbe, whose three children wrote "Mama is always mad at Poppa" in their famous book, "Around the World in 11 Years," has brought action in Los Angeles for a substantial allowance, pending her divorce suit from "Poppa," who is James Edward Abbe, radio commentator.

The Somerville fire, which swept a two-story house in Gilman st., made a total of 10 persons homeless. They were members of the families of Harold Duffy and Louis Casey.

OLD MEJICO WAS NEVER LIKE THIS—Still clinging to sombreros and colorful shawls, these Mexican laborers, some of 300 brought to New Haven, Ct., to ease the railroad labor shortage, find the climate a bit chillier than it is back home . . . as they work on the tracks. Most of the men had never seen snow before.

Sea Food Famine Only 10 Days Off

With the fresh fish supply almost non-existent because of the fishing strike and frozen stocks decreasing rapidly, a general famine in sea foods was seen today to be less than 10 days away.

Prominent Boston dealers based their warnings of an acute shortage on an estimated consumption of 1,000,000 pounds of fish in this region a day.

At last reports, on Dec. 29, the total of frozen fish in storage was 11,637,997 pounds and market men now believe the amount available for New England consumption has dropped to 6,000,000 pounds. Continuing at this rate, reserve stocks of fish would be gone in about a week.

Fish Pier dealers say the random catches of fresh fish being landed supply only five per cent of the fish needed. Fish counters in many stores are bare; other concerns are carrying but two or three varieties of fish, when they formerly offered a score.

Meanwhile, neither the Atlantic Fishermen's Union nor the OPA has made any further move toward settlement of the strike, caused by establishment of wholesale fish price ceilings last summer.

GOV. BRICKER TO MAKE BID IN MICHIGAN

By GEORGE R. BROWN
Special to Boston Evening American

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5—Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, is about to carry his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President outside his own home state, into nearby Michigan, and a little later into the southwest.

The Governor is not so much concerned at this time in building up delegate strength for himself outside of Ohio, of which he will be the favorite son supported by a solid delegation, as he is in having the American people, as early as possible in this Presidential campaign year, begin to study and discuss the issues.

It is clear that from now on Gov. Bricker proposes to carry the great issues of the day directly to the voters, well in advance of the primary elections beginning in March, when delegates to the next Republican National Convention will begin to be selected.

Gov. Bricker will open the 1944 presidential campaign with a speech at Detroit on Friday, when he will be introduced by Gov. Kelly to a luncheon audience of more than 1000 men and women

Particular significance attaches to the campaign speeches to be made in these two southwestern states. Republican sentiment is reported to be stronger today in Texas and Oklahoma than in any states south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers, not including Kentucky.

The War Today

Pre-Invasion Tasks Stressed by Analyst

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Day after day the American and British Air Forces based on Britain are drenching the coast along the English Channel with bombs directed at a multitude of objectives which are described mysteriously as "invasion targets"; that is, targets which must be reduced before the Anglo-American land forces can be put ashore for their drive on Berlin.

Yesterday, for instance, Yankee medium bombers slashed at Nazi installations in the French coastal zone for long hours. Authorities are silent as to the exact objectives but unofficially it's suggested our men were hunting emplacements for rocket-guns—Germany's new "secret" weapon.

The Allies aren't taking chances on this rocket-gun, for the experts of all countries know that such weapons can be constructed to throw shells containing terrific explosive power over long distances.

CASUALTIES TO BE HEAVY

The rocket-gun, however, is only one of our problems. The spadework now being carried on by the daring and uncannily skillful Anglo-American air fleets, in the face of fierce enemy counterblows, is a labor which will save untold thousands of our men when the day of invasion finally arrives.

But we shouldn't let that blind us to the cruel fact the casualties among the landing forces are likely to be terribly heavy.

Among the targets on the invasion coast are railway communications and rolling-stock which can move Nazi supplies and troops up to the battle line. Airfields and grounded warplanes are constant objectives, for invasion will be accompanied by a titantic conflict in the air.

TANK BASES TARGETS

Heavy artillery emplacements are a particular menace.

Tank bases also are prime targets, for these speedy steel fortresses are nasty obstacles for amphibious forces trying to establish a beachhead.

One of the greatest threats our invasion forces will go up against will be mines—both of the sea and land variety—which are all the more fearful because they are hidden dangers.

Daredevil mine sweepers—the unsung heroes of the sea—will run their noses up into the fields of floating explosives and clean out many of the mines; in fact, these little vessels are constantly at this dangerous work. The sweepers won't get all of the mines, of course, and many ships and troop barges will go down.

Tito Says Nazi Drive Smashed

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Marshal Tito announced today that the prolonged German offensive in eastern Bosnia had been smashed and that Yugoslav forces had regained enemy-occupied territory, including the important town of Vlasenica, 30 miles northeast of Sarajevo, where huge stores of war materiel were captured.

168 Italian Marines Freed by Japs

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (INS)—The Japanese Domei agency transmitted a wireless dispatch to Pacific areas today saying that 168 officers and men of the Italian Marine Corps at Tientsin, China, had been released from detention yesterday at a formal ceremony in which they pledged support of Mussolini's puppet government and "whole-hearted co-operation" with the Japanese.

The Italian marines had been prisoners since Marshal Badoglio pledged Italy to an armistice, the Domei dispatch said.

Secret Headquarters For Eisenhower

LONDON, Jan. 5 (INS)—A special secret invasion headquarters has been prepared for Gen. Eisenhower who will command the Allied assault on western Europe, the Daily Herald said today.

As soon as he arrives in London the American general will set down to work immediately with Air Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, deputy commander, at the new headquarters, according to the Herald.

Gen. Miles to Honor Two Boston Officers

Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, commander of the First Service Command, will honor two Boston officers during dual review ceremonies at the Commonwealth Armory at 5 p. m. today.

Capt. Jeff Mills will be awarded the Legion of Merit Medal for his work in supply and transportation, while Chief Warrant Officer Joseph S. Wood will be paid tribute on his retirement after nearly 45 years of Army service.

Wife Tired? . . Ration Points? . . Try

WALDORF SUPPERS

"IT SEEMS TO ME I SEE more whole families dining in your cafeterias these evenings," said an acquaintance a few nights ago as I was lingering near the serving counter watching the steady flow of piping hot servings as they came from the kitchens.

● "Couples of course are nothing new in a Waldorf," he went on, "but when night after night I see so many children and their parents at these tables it seems like something out of the ordinary to an old timer like myself. More people are eating out, I guess!"

● This old timer was exactly right. More families, for one reason or another, find it better to gather the youngsters together and make a happy party in our cafeterias at least once or twice a week. It both goes a long way towards solving ration point problems, and at the same time gives many a tired housewife and mother a welcome rest from her wearying tasks.

● And they delight in the wide choice we offer of so many delicious things to eat. There is always something substantial and hearty for the grown-ups, and other servings better suited for the young tots who soon will be popped into bed.

● They find it to be a great idea. You, too, might like to try it.

Draft Delay for Waste Collectors Sought

Alarmed over the increasing manpower shortage besetting firms which collect refuse in Boston, Public Works Commr. George G. Hyland today prepared to seek draft deferments for men engaged in waste collection tasks.

Hyland declared the draft threatens to cripple the city's garbage and rubbish collection service, which is performed by private contractors normally hiring 350 men.

He will confer with Corp. Counsel Frank J. Murray as to the procedure in seeking deferments.

Similarly handicaped, he said, is his department's street-cleaning force. His men are being inducted, Hyland asserted, although he sought deferments for them months ago.

The commissioner has sought the loan of soldiers and sailors to help in the emergency, but has been turned down by both the Army and Navy.

Also hampering the effort to keep Boston's streets neat is a shortage of parts for repairing the 11 street sweeping machines owned by the city, Hyland reported.

Have a Coca-Cola = Let's be friendly

...a way to win a welcome wherever you go

Where you find democracy, you find the feeling of friendliness, of give-and-take—the spirit of neighborliness. It's made up of little things that mark a way of life: sports, fair play, movies, comics and swing music. A simple phrase like Have a "Coke" turns strangers into friends, the same in both hemispheres. Around the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the high-sign of the good-hearted.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

Road to Tokyo Still Long, OWI Warns

By DAVID SENTNER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—Despite the islands recovered from the Japs and the ships and planes sunk, it is a long, long way to Tokyo and victory, the Office of War Information asserts.

Pointing out that our Pacific operations had only wrested from the Japs slightly more than five per cent of the territory they had seized, the OWI knocked flat the conception that the conquest of Japan would be relatively "quick and easy" once Germany has been disposed of.

"Geography, logistics and the nature of the Japanese soldiers do not support such an opinion," it was stated.

While declaring Germany was no "pushover," the United Nations was pictured as having liberated approximately one-fifth of the territory held by Germany in Europe and Africa while only one-twentieth of the territory held by Japan has been freed.

ONLY FRINGE PIERCED

"It should also be borne in mind that the territory we have so far liberated lay along the outer extremities and the closer we get to the enemy's heart (Japan and Germany proper) the stiffer the defenses are likely to be," said the report.

"By the time the Japanese had completed their conquest, their territory amounted to more than 3,000,000 square miles, or almost half again as much as the Nazi domain at its largest.

"This vast area is protected by a chain of fortified islands, all of which have interior supply lines to the empire's industrial center, Japan itself. It is about 3000 miles from Japan's industrial centers, where its war weapons are made, to its farthest fighting front, where those weapons are used.

TRAVEL 9000 MILES

"Our men and supplies, on the other hand, must travel about 9000 miles if they are sent by way of the Pacific and even farther if they go by way of the Atlantic and the Mediterranean.

"The Japanese have some 2,000,000 men who haven't been called; in addition, they have an additional 1,500,000 between the ages of 17 and 20 not yet subject to the draft."

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have headaches?	☐	☐
Do you lack pep or vim?	☐	☐
Do you get irritable easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel depressed—nervous?	☐	☐

Everybody knows that poorly digested food often causes a headachy, sluggish condition.

But you may not know that Nature must produce each day about two pints of the vital digestive juice—liver bile—to help digest your food.

If Nature fails—food doesn't digest properly—you may get irregular. And the amount of this vital digestive juice may be still further reduced. Thus, digestive upset and sluggishness can follow each other in a vicious circle that keeps you feeling rotten. Therefore, take Carter's Little Liver Pills because they start bile flowing quickly—often within thirty minutes. When bile flow increases—you may help your digestion. You're on your way to feeling grand all over again. Remember—you can't get these same results from laxatives that fail to stimulate the flow of bile.

If you feel headachy, listless, irritable or depressed, get a 25¢ package of Carter's Little Liver Pills at any drugstore today. Take as directed. Tomorrow see how fit and alive you'll feel!

NEGOTIATED PEACE WITH JAPS FEARED

By RAY RICHARDS

Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—Suspicion that a strong movement has been set in motion in the United States toward a negotiated peace with Japan found its first official expression today in a denunciation by Rep. John Phillips (R.) of California.

New signs are everywhere as to the determination, extent and growing success of a campaign for conciliation and appeasement in the Pacific peace settlment, Phillips said.

He describes it as one of the most dangerous chains of propaganda ever uncoiled in this country.

Phillips declared the prospect of a negotiated peace undoubtedly is regarded by Tokyo as a reserve weapon more dependable even than the Japanese army and navy.

"Informed persons know that Japan regards this war, merely as the first campaign in a century or more of conquest, and thus any peace by negotiation will be a Japanese victory," Phillips said.

He spoke in a burst of resentment against pacifist organizations now filling the mail-baskets of Congressmen with "peace now" propaganda, and against several persons presumably close to the National Administration who in recent weeks have switched from positive demand for total victory over Japan to appeals in behalf of the Japanese people and their ancient governmental concepts.

"These individuals," Phillips said, "include those who would sustain the Japanese emperor as an American puppet after the war."

Phillips said he saw the "incredible coddling" of avowedly disloyal Japanese in the United States as a facet of a state of mind which apparently is contagious."

Forts Rip Bulgaria, Nazis Tighten Grip

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—A new American bombing raid into Bulgaria, hitting south of the capital, was disclosed today as the Germans were reported extending their control to virtual military occupation apparently in fear Bulgaria might attempt to break away from the Axis.

Flying Fortresses hammered the railway yards and a bridge at Dupnista, 50 miles south of Sofia, yesterday, Allied headquarters in Algiers announced, and a Berlin broadcast said 60 persons were killed and 100 injured. It added that the planes flew over Sofia, bombed several times before, but dropped no bombs.

The true political situation inside the country was clouded, with communications still severed.

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau, however, said Sofia was raided with heavy damage and with loss of life especially high because of lack of air raid skelters. This same source added the Turkish legation had moved to a town 25 miles south of Sofia.

While rumors continued to circulate that the government of Premier Dobri Bojoliv had been overthrown, an Associated Press dispatch from Istanbul quoted a traveler as saying Bojilov was still in power when he left the country Monday, although the government was severely shaken by powerful public pressure for repudiation of the Germans as well as strife within the regency and cabinet.

Allied bombings of Sofia have had such a strong effect on the population, he said, that the Germans have had to take over the administration of most of the city's affairs to prevent rioting. He declared the Germans were rapidly extending their control over the nation.

An Associated Press dispatch from Bern, Switz., said the Bulgarian government had shaken up its diplomatic staff, naming important political leaders to the Tokyo and Stockholm ministries in an apparent move to place expert listeners in those posts for the critical days ahead.

There was no official confirmation in London of reports that a pro-Allied coup d'etat had already taken place.

Hungarians Discuss Rumanian Differences

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Morocco radio, quoting a Zurich dispatch from Budapest, said today the Hungarian Parliament had met secretly to discuss Hungarian-Rumanian territorial differences.

Rumania has indicated a willingness to discuss such differences, the dispatch added, as a result of the Red army's advance nearer her borders.

German Army Mutiny Reported by Moscow

LONDON, Jan. 5 (INS)—The Moscow radio today reported a mutiny within the German army west of Zhitomir, with many clashes occurring between Hungarian units and the Nazi regulars.

According to the report recorded by Reuter's, the Hungarians have refused to obey Field Marshal Fritz Erich von Mannstein's order to take a more active part in the battles of the north Ukraine.

The commander-in-chief of the Hungarian army was said to be enroute to the Russian front in an attempt to arrange a compromise with the rebellious elements.

Reds Credit Retreat To Yank Bombings

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—American bombing of the Scheinfurt bearing works in Germany "reacted disastrously for Hitler on the eastern front," a Soviet commentator said today in a Moscow broadcast. He added:

"Allied bombbers are raiding war industries with the result seen in the catastrophic retreat in the east."

Yanks Pound Thailand Japs

CHUNGKING, Jan. 5 (AP)—U. S. 14th Air Force Liberator bombers accompanied by fighters unloaded 10 tons of bombs on the Japanese base at Lampang, Thailand, on Monday, Lieut.-Gen. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

Fighter-bombers of the 14th Air Force also attacked the Japanese-held town of Pingka in western Yunnan province, hitting an ammunition dump.

All planes returned safely.

The Chinese armies are prepared to launch a general counter-offensive this year, Minister of Information Liang Han-Chao told a press conference.

Hero Thought

MT. VERNON, N. Y., Jan. 5 (AP)—Pvt. Leonard Fierst, home on leave, explained why he refused the Purple Heart award after he suffered a saber wound on Guadalcanal.

He said he knew his parents would be informed of the award—and he was afraid they would worry about him.

Delightful Sandwich

By MARTHA LEE

WHAT'S for lunch today? Too often, if it's a box lunch, there's no surprise whatsoever — just the same old combination, filling but not inspiring. A little planning ahead, and the acquisition of a few new lunch box tricks, can put the surprise in every package, and a highly nutritious surprise at that.

The lunch box meal is an excellent place for using cheese to maximum advantage. Possessing so many virtues of milk, an important energy food, rich in vitamin A, cheese is the mainstay of all kinds of hearty, stick-to-the-ribs sandwiches. An interesting cheese sandwich combining American cheese, chopped pecans and pimientos in the following lunch menu is a real treat to the appetite.

LUNCH BOX MENU

Tomato Juice
Cheese Sandwiches
Carrot Strips Celery Radishes
Jelly Roll Slice Grapes

CHEESE SANDWICHES

½ lb. American cheese, shredded
2 tbsp. chopped pimiento
½ cup chopped pecans
½ cup salad dressing
Enriched bread

Combine the shredded cheese, pimiento, pecans and salad dressing. Blend well. For each sandwich spread this mixture between two slices of bread.

Ripe Olive Nut Sandwiches are extremely popular and palatable because they combine chewy ripe olives and soft cheese with crispy nuts to give pleasing texture contrast, and good tasting qualities.

RIPE OLIVE NUT SANDWICHES

2-3 cup well drained chopped ripe olives 2-3 cup chopped nuts
2 3-ounce pkgs. cream cheese
Salt ¼ cup mayonnaise
Tabasco sauce Enriched bread
Butter or substitute

Combine ripe olives, nuts, cheese, mayonnaise, salt to taste, and a few drops of Tabasco sauce, and blend. Spread on thin slices of buttered bread and cover with second slices.

CHEESE AND VEGETABLE SANDWICHES

1 cup minced celery
1 cup grated raw carrot
½ cup thin radish slices
¼ cup minced green pepper
¼ cup mayonnaise
4 slices American cheese, or
1 cup shredded American cheese
Pinch of salt 8 slices bread

Combine seasoned vegetables with mayonnaise. Spread on 4 well buttered slices of whole wheat or enriched bread. Top each with shredded American cheese or a thin slice, and another buttered slice of bread. Makes 4 sandwiches.

PERFECT for the office girl . . . for any occasion . . . is this beautifully cut navy twill suit worn by lovely film star Ginger Rogers. A single button at the waist . . . white faille ruching about the neck . . . bertha collar effect . . . and slash pockets are details of this smart utility costume. Complete this with a felt beanie . . . laced down the back . . . and a white handkerchief linen pintucked blouse . . . and you're ready not only for the office . . . but for that date with HIM after work.

Don't Use Red Ink

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: Is it considered poor taste to use red ink when writing a social letter? I cannot see why it should be, but a friend of mine insists it is.

B. L.

Your friend is right . . . it is not good taste to use red (or green or purple or brilliant blue) ink when writing a letter. Black or dark blue are considered the proper shade for ink.

Save Hubby's Falling Hair

Beauty

FOR THE FIRST TIME . . . the very first time that a man takes a four-square look at his hairline . . . and, finds that it isn't where it was yesterday or the week before . . . can't you just hear him chirp . . . Nature, oh, Nature, where is the justice?

For years he has been footing the beauty bills for the Missus . . . dishing out greenbacks for permanents . . . hot dryer waves . . . special hairdos . . . color rinses and hair whatnots . . . and still the gorgeous Missus continues to hold on to every last strand of hair since adult femininity came her way.

While HE . . . poor guy . . . tower of Herculean masculinity . . . has a little moon of shiny baldness in the center of his pate . . . and handfuls upon handfuls of his precious locks drop off at the tenderest touch of the brush and comb . . . although he vows he's nursed his crowning crop for years . . . and that HE never had an artificial trick applied to his head.

Why . . . he clamors loud and long . . . he even wears a cap in the shower . . . and never applies water to his hair smoothness (what's left of it) . . . as he did when he was knee high to a grasshopper . . . but, still the scurf of his scalp fall in scales of dead skin from his depleting hair onto his navy, blue, khaki or olive drab shoulders . . . like a shedding Dalmatian. And, brother, that's humiliating!

BUT DON'T SCOLD HIM!

Well, never mind the recriminations and post mortems . . . Don't scold him . . . There'll be a new day coming. Be better than a best friend . . . be a solicitous girl friend or a devoted wife . . . and tell him about an herbal analeptic ointment that's salvaged more than one misused female head of hair from total tragedy.

Tell him about this restorative, strengthening, medicinal ointment . . . which with only one treatment will rid the scalp of its unsightly flakiness and scaly whiteness. It's like manna from heaven to a dry scalp suffering from poor circulation and falling dandruff.

Of course, this doesn't mean that the condition will be "cured" with just one application of this ointment . . . that can and will be done in a matter of weeks . . . as many a thankful woman similarly afflicted has discovered joyfully. But, bit by bit, the flakes will be pulled apart and gathered off the scalp by the herbal action . . . and one good brushing after application will whip them away. Help HIM out . . . apply it for him . . . running the ointment along the scalp.

WHY NOT BUY TWO TUBES?

There is no homely greasy "treatment" stage to this application . . . for it is a bland, greaseless ointment . . . with properties that are both soothing and stimulating. It is a beneficial scalp food . . . a featured star in one of the most famous masculine hair-saving institutes in the world . . . patronized in New York by more top-notchers of industry and finance than you can imagine.

Ask him to buy two tubes . . . it's only one dollar . . . of this wondrous herbal analeptic . . . with the touching thought in mind that you, too, need new and fresh beauty and strength for your hair so it will come through the winter permanent with luxuriance instead of stringy brittleness.

For the name of this unforgettable and remarkable hair aid, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TWO HEADS reflecting the kind of vibrantly healthy hair which can be the reward of using a splendid herbal analeptic . . . are displayed by film stars Dick Powell and Mary Martin. A healthy, lustrous mop of hair can be either man's or woman's crowning glory . . . for it is one of the responsive points of handsomeness that the human body boasts. No falling hair or signs of baldness in these two crops.

Too Much 'In-Law'

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—My husband is in service. We have two children. From the time we were married, my husband's mother has never cared for me and is always trying to separate us. My husband and I are in love with one another. And now my mother-in-law is angry and hasn't come to see the children and me for over a month.

I wrote my husband about this, but he said he was sure she isn't angry. She does say mean things about me to others, but my husband says to ignore it—and that you can always have two wives but only one mother. I may as well turn against him as turn against his mother. All our arguments are on account of her. What would you suggest? Shall I divorce him or try to be friendly with her?

C. F.

Trying as it must be to endure, I believe it would be the wiser plan for you to take your husband's advice and ignore your mother-in-law's attitude.

There are a lot of old women who would find it difficult to forgive an angel from heaven for marrying their sons. But you've got the son, you've got the children, and the wisest course is to overlook mother-in-law jealousy. If you don't pay any attention to her, very likely she'll come around of her own accord.

Home-Coming Tip

Some servicemen have admitted that the reason why they make their home-coming a "surprise visit" is that they don't want the family to have time to "change things at home," even one little bit. They want to see home just as they left it . . . no changes, no dressing-up.

Spring Suits to Have Smallest of Jackets

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SUITS with jackets that can hardly be seen with the naked eye at any distance are something new that has been cooked up by a lot of big-name designers.

They are ready to wear right now under a heavy coat, and later when the weather gets warm, as suits. The way the jacket has been shrunk to its smallest size yet is by cutting it off to above the waistline, and then slashing out a deep neckline, and after that giving it short sleeves.

A model that will give you the idea is sketched. This one is made of navy blue wool, very light weight, and the jacket has a deep square neckline, cutaway corners and short sleeves. It shows a lot of a very pretty white blouse with fancy buttons down the front and a bow tie. This one was designed for Olivia de Haviland.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5—Occasionally the reader writes and asks a question about the movies. To answer would necessitate almost writing a column to the person, and so I have decided to answer some of the questions here. And here are a batch of them:

Paulette Goddard

1—How did Hollywood get its name? 2—Who won the first Academy Awards? 3—Why is it called Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer when Samuel Goldwyn makes his own pictures? 4—When was the first movie shown in America? 5—What is the screen's first big vampire, Theda Bara, doing today? 6—What was the original title of "The Birth of a Nation"? 7—Paulette Goddard is known to have been Charlie Chaplin's leading lady, but who were three of his leading ladies before Miss Goddard? 8—Who invented the motion picture camera? 9—Who was the first movie star? 10—What was the first movie made in Hollywood?

★ ★ ★

THESE ARE TEN questions asked by various readers, and some of them cannot be answered quickly and in a line. For some of them I had to do quite a bit of research to get the answer.

1—There are many versions of how Hollywood got its name but the most authentic seems to be that the inspiration came from the prevalence of hollywood trees in the area.

2—The first Academy Awards were given in 1928, and the pictures that won the prize were "Wings" and "Sunrise." That first year they couldn't name one best picture. The award for the best performance by an actress went to Janet Gaynor for her work in "Seventh Heaven" and "Sunrise." The award for the best performance by an actor went to Emil Jannings for "Way of All Flesh" and "The Last Command."

3—Samuel Goldwyn was once a partner when the old Metro firm merged with his organization and that of L. B. Mayer. When Goldwyn left to produce on his own, the trade name stayed intact.

4—The first moving picture, as we know it today, was shown in New York on April 23, 1896 . . . That first movie show consisted of a burlesque boxing match between two comedians.

5—Theda Bara now lives modestly with her husband, Charles Brabin, a former director, in their own home in Beverly Hills.

6—"The Birth of a Nation" was originally the novel, "The Clansman, by Thomas Dixon.

★ ★ ★

7—CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S most consistent leading lady was Edna Purviance. She was his leading lady in all his early comedies, and it was because of a promise to star her in a feature that Chaplin wrote, produced and directed the only picture in which he didn't appear—"A Woman of Paris." Two of his other leading ladies were Myrna Kennedy and Lita Grey.

8—There have been many versions of the origin of motion pictures; there have been many claimants of the original invention. The best authorities claim that the honor should really go to William Friese-Greene, a London photographer.

9—The first movie star was the actress known as the "IMP" girl. Her name, Florence Lawrence.

10—The first motion picture ever filmed in Hollywood was made by Francis Boggs in 1908. It was called "The Heart of a Race Track Tout," and Boggs shot it in one afternoon at the old Santa Anita race track. One of the early pictures was a one-reeler, "The Count of Monte Cristo." It was shot on the beach at Santa Monica, and when the actor, standing on a rock in the Pacific ocean, was knocked into the ocean by a huge wave, the director shouted to his crew: "Save that wig!" It was more important than the actor.

Boston After Dark

THE CAMBRIDGE RATIONING BOARD is harboring a pretty singer named Harriet Poltorak whom radio auditioners think is capable of cutting a career with her voice . . . And pert, black-haired Marjorie Monahan, daughter of Francis J., the Boston lawyer who resides in Newton, had an appointment today with Harry Conover, the artist, and models' guide and mentor . . . Miss Monahan is a graduate of the Boston Academie Moderne . . . The Shuberts' all-time high will have been cracked for eight performances when this item sees print . . . That New Year's Eve gross of $6600 plus (at a $6.60 top), was responsible for the box-office record, but "Mexican Hayride," the show making the record, is in terrific demand, and except for scattered seats in the hands of ticket-brokers, and a few handsfull in the ticket racks of the theater, the Michael Todd musical is sold out for the Boston run.

KAY BROWN, CO-PRODUCER with Jack Del Bondio of "Suds In Your Eyes," at the Wilbur, is the girl who discovered "Gone With the Wind" for the cinema . . . As story-editor for David Selznick, Kay fell in love with the story in galley-proof form and her recommendation to Selznick was so strong that he proceeded to read it himself and at once . . . He got the famous story for $50,000—a pittance as story prices go these days . . . "Voice of the Turtle," for instance, is being held at an asking price of $500,000 for the picture rights . . . Moreover, it may fetch that astounding figure . . .

GOOD OLD GUS VAN is going great guns at the Bradford Roof, and Bennie Fields will be packing 'em in for the balance of his run at the Mayfair . . . Sally Keith played hostess to the waitresses of the Crawford House New Year's Day . . . Will some kind inventor please devote himself in 1944 to scheming up a gadget which will make it possible to replace a typewriter ribbon with another one without it being necessary to have a thorough grounding in mechanical engineering, preferably at M. I. T.? . . . Walter Pidgeon's beard as Eve Curie's husband in the picture "Dr. Curie" is not Wally's first beaver . . . In a story called "Mis. Nobody from Nowhere," on which this department collaborated with Joe Swerling and Jim Whittaker in 1925 or '26 and in which Anna Q. Nilson was starred, Mr. Pidgeon was a bearded small-part player . . . It was a silent fillum about a lady tramp, (box-car variety) . . . The new synthetic tires are being cursed by taxi-drivers, who say they won't hold in slippery going . . . But each crop of "synthos" keeps improving.

SPEAKING OF TAXI-DRIVERS, a nice one named Joe Edmonds played Mr. Fix-it (with a dash of Mr. Anthony) last night . . . A young sailor, from Quonset, on the eve of shoving off for foreign parts, unburdened himself to the sympathetic cab-jockey as he got off the train at Back Bay . . . "I haven't seen my wife for eight months," the kid told the driver . . . "She was so mad at me for enlisting after I had been deferred in the draft that she told me not to come home any more . . . Well, I haven't been home yet, and that was eight months ago . . . Furthermore, I'm not going home tonight . . . I'm going to have myself a go at the gin-mills and see what develops" . . . Taxi-driver Edmonds proceeded to give the lad a fatherly talk . . . "He was such a clean-cut boy that it was one of the happiest moments in months when I deposited him at his own doorstep in Dorchester," Driver Edmonds said . . . "I waited for awhile to see whether he'd come out . . . He didn't, so I guess he found his bride at home—and probably waiting for him (I hope)" . . . But we'll settle personally for every driver an escort—instead of a good-will court! . . . They're not all Edmondses, the boys.

"Mr. Smith, would you mind repeating what came after 'Dear Sir'?"

BACK FROM HELL . . . By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

"HE CAN HEAR AND FEEL BULLETS KICK DIRT BEHIND HIS HEELS AS SOMETHING HITS HIM 2½ INCHES BELOW HIS HEART AND KNOCKS HIM DOWN..."
MARINE SERGEANT EDWARD F. LONG - HE RISKED HIS LIFE FOR A FRIEND - BUT LOST HIS FRIEND -
"EDDIE!" GASPS ANDERSON - NEVER MIND ME - THERE ARE FOUR OTHER GUYS BURIED UNDER ME!!!"
"A 16-INCH SHELL THAT BLOWS HIM 6 FT. IN THE AIR OUT OF HIS FOX-HOLE..."
"HEY, LONG! YELLS THE CORPSMAN, YOU'VE BEEN HIT - YOUR BACK - IT'S ALL TORE OPEN!!"

THAT night would be his birthday—if he lived that long. Eddie was beginning to wonder...

The shelling increased after dark instead of diminishing. All day the Japs pounded Henderson with 90-mm's and 105's, and about 10 that night the big guns from the sea began. They were the worst—worse than anything Eddie ever imagined in his 20 years and 364 days—the 16-inchers from the "biggest battleship (at that time) ever afloat."

At 2 a. m. Pfc. Eddie Long would be 21 years old. This would have been some birthday back in Chicago . . . with his mother and two brothers . . . "Happy birthday, Eddie" . . . "So you're a man now" . . . "21 candles on a cake."

And then at 1:30 his "birthday present from Tojo" arrives—a 16-inch shell that lands 75 feet behind him and blows him five or six feet in the air out of his foxhole, and from that time on Eddie has no time to think of birthdays.

Somewhere out in the jungle darkness there are voices calling for help and Eddie crawls toward what looks to be a dugout when the next big one comes over. Eddie can hear it coming... it's going to be close... he rolls into a shell crater 10 or 12 feet deep as the shell tears the earth up 50 feet or so behind him and Eddie feels no pain, but starts crawling out with what he doesn't know at the time are two pieces of shapnel in his back on either side of the spine.

The cries for help are louder now and when Eddie reaches what was the dugout there is only the head of a man sticking out of the rubble of shrapnel and powdered rock and dirt whom Eddie recognized as Andy Anderson, "the Swede," and Eddie sees that he's alive.

Eddie Digs Wildly, His Fingers in Man's Face

Forgetting the shellfire, Eddie starts to dig wildly with his fingers around the man's face, the shrapnel and rock cutting the fingers until they feel warm with the blood. The deep rattling sound of another shell grows in his ears. He curls his body in a U about Anderson's face as protection before the shell lands thunderously to spray debris over that end of the field, but immediately afterward he returns to his digging . . .

"Eddie!" gasps Anderson when his chest is freed. "Never mind me, I can still breath. There are four other guys under me!"

Eddie calls for help. About a dozen men from the Marine fighter squadron ground crew crawl over to join him. By now the sharp edges of shrapnel have cut under his fingernails, but Eddie doesn't stop—not even during the bombardment which has grown more intense, nor when a Jap float plane drifts overhead to drop star shells so close Eddie feels he can reach up and touch them. Some of the men sensibly run for cover, but it's past that stage for Eddie Long . . .

"Come back, you punks!" he yells through the cacaphony of snipers' shots and bursting shells and bombs—for by now there are dive-bombers coming over too—"Are you Leathernecks or yellow-bellies?"

To Eddie the men return too slowly, because now Andy has told him that buried somewhere under there is Eddie's pal — the husky Jewish kid from Chicago they called "Handsome" because of the girls he knew at Pearl Harbor and before, and Eddie remembers how they were talking about girls only a half-hour ago and Eddie was telling "Handsome" about the girl he was going to marry . . .

At the Bottom of the Grave Is "Handsome"

Interrupted by constant bombardment all that terrible night, it's 5 in the morning before they uncover the last man—or body. Only two are alive—Anderson and a kid named Kaell. The body at the bottom of the grave 10 feet down is "Handsome" . . .

Eddie lifts the body out. He can tell how his friend smothered to death by the way the hands are clutched in the debris and Eddie can only stand there, cursing weakly, with tears running from his eyes, and blood from all 10 fingers as they load the three bodies on a truck and drive them away . . .

It's daylight, and Eddie walks alone to a little knoll facing off over the clearing when the Major and a medical corpsman come up. Eddie doesn't see the Major, but he hears the corpsman yell:

"Long! What the hell are you doing out there?"

Eddie doesn't answer. He doesn't know what the corpsman is talking about . . .

"You've been hit," the corpsman continues, walking up to him.

Eddie interprets this to mean the loss of his pal, and replies gruffly, "You're not kidding" as he turns his face away. He's thinking about how his friend and he agreed to look up the other's folks if anything happened to either of them.

"I mean your back," says the corpsman, "it's all torn open."

Eddie reaches his hand behind him—he has no shirt on—and feels the dried blood over the wounds. It's the first time he knows he's been wounded.

Walking to the dressing station with the medic the major's voice comes from the distance talking to the men:

"I don't know how long this is going to last, but I want you to know you carried on heroically through the night past—in Marine-like fashion."

The Major asks the names of the 13 who were digging for the buried men during the bombardment, and Eddie hears them mention his name—"Long deserves the credit," but to Eddie the words sound false and unimportant now that his buddy is dead.

He waits while they clean the wounds and stop the bleeding—leaving the shrapnel in there—and then he goes back to duty because that's better than lying in a hospital cot thinking about everything.

Even when the bullet from a strafing Jap plane hits him the following Sunday, Eddie feels the same way about hospitals.

He Can Hear the Bullets Kick the Dirt

By then the whole ground force has evacuated Henderson Field temporarily after the bombardment and moved over to the fighter strip, and it's a relief to Eddie to be taking care of the fighter planes again, though sometimes your plane doesn't come back, and then you have that same lost feeling until they give you another plane with an unprintable name that makes you laugh and forget the other one. All the planes have unprintable names except the C. O.'s, whose is named after his daughter. And at night you sit around and sing that song they wrote to the tune of "Mandalay" called "On the Road to Geizo Bay."

So on this Sunday, about noon, when the Japs send over "all kinds of flying equipment which sit up there waiting for us to come up," Eddie ignores too long, after the fighters get off, the shouted warning to "duck for shelter."

He is standing in the jungle near the chow hall watching this Jap float plane come over—"a dive-bomber with two pontoons so close it looks as big as a Liberator," and then Eddie starts to run. He can hear and feel the machine-gun bullets kick the dirt behind his heels as he runs down this little hill, the bullets following him, and just as his foot touches level ground something hits him in the side two and a half inches below his heart and knocks him down. Eddie grasps his side "just like in the movies," and cries out, "Oh, mother!" as the plane roars off overhead.

Eddie picks himself up, a little ashamed of the dramatics, and walks to the dressing station holding his side. Once more they patch him up—the bullet penetrating only the fleshy part of his left side—and once more Eddie insists on going back to duty until seven attacks of malaria and a tropical ulcer send him home six months later.

Valentines

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Girls, if you want your Valentine greetings to reach the boys overseas by Feb. 14, you'd better get them in the mails right away.

The War Department today urged wives, sweethearts and relatives of soldiers overseas to mail their greetings between now and Jan. 15.

Robot Raids?

LONDON, Jan. 5 (INS)—The Daily Sketch said today that Germany is believed to be planning air raids carried out by pilot-less planes guided by a radio beam.

The Patin Works near Berlin, said the paper, is purported to be the center of experimental activity along these lines.

Russia Plans Post-War Border to the West

By the Associated Press

RUSSIA'S First Ukraine Army has plunged across the old Polish frontier—but in Moscow's view "Poland" apparently still lies 150 miles beyond.

At this old border, the Red army is 370 miles from Germany itself and 780 miles west of Stalingrad, scene of a great Nazi debacle in January, 1943. Soviet offensives then already underway farther west, since have travelled more than 500 miles, toppling Kharkov, Kursk and Kiev.

Red army troops crossed the prewar Polish-Russian frontier after racing 10 miles beyond the town of Olevsk.

FREE RUSSIAN TERRITORY

But in September, 1939, by military and political partition of Poland with Germany, Russia pushed her Polish frontier back in a jagged line ranging generally from 100 to 210 miles farther west. The Soviets have indicated in various ways that they consider this new territory as "Russian," and still to be liberated.

Much of the Polish territory taken by Russia formerly had been Russian under earlier partitions of Poland, but was incorporated into an independent Poland after the First World War. Hitler's invasion of Russia was sprung in June, 1941, from the new border, carrying nearly to Moscow.

In a straight line west, it is 150 miles from the old border near Olevsk to the new 1938 boundary running along the Bug River between Chelm, on the German side, and Luboml. The crossing of the former line capped a Russian power drive carrying 140 miles west of Kiev.

The Russians are within 80 miles of the Dniester river, formerly the boundary between Russia and Rumania. But Russia in 1940 established a new frontier, compelling Rumania to bow to an ultimatum and cede Bessarabia between the Dniester and Prut rivers—a strip varying from 50 to 100 miles wide—and northern Bucovina.

Along with Poland, the Russians took over Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, in 1940, subsequently making them republics of the U.S.S.R. these acquisitions pushed the border some 280 miles west from the old frontiers in the Vitebsk and Nevil areas, or all the way across Lithuania and Latvia to the Baltic shore.

RUSSIA'S POST-WAR BORDER

From Finland, Russia gained the Karelian Isthmus, including Viipuri, and territory along Finland's eastern border in the winter war of 1939-40. With German help, the Finns retook Viipuri and their part of the Kerelian Isthmus, and gained a slice of Karelia to the north.

This is apparently what Russia wants to be her new border line after the war:

It envelopes all of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. From Lithuania it touches East Prussia, going southwest, then curves southeast along the Bug River barely taking in Brest-Litovsk and including Luck (by good margin) all the way to Sokol. At Sokol it bends west and southwest to the San River near Jaroslaw, and follows the San to the Carpathian mountains. This was the line that was established across Poland by agreement between Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop. The line then runs along the Carpathians to the old Rumanian border, takes in a chunk of northern Bucovina in a line about 10 miles below Cernauti, and then cuts off all of Bessarabia between the Prut and Dniester rivers.

Rumania, whose troops have suffered heavily in eastern front fighting, took back Bessarabia and the Germans awarded her Trans-Dniestria, a black soil wheat belt between the Dniester and lower Bug River. Trans-Dniestria, officially decreed to be part of Rumania, includes the Black Sea port of Odessa.

There Must Be No Further Delay

"REPUBLICS ARE UNGRATEFUL" is an old saying that comes down to us from the days of the Roman Republic.

It was probably born of the fact that while the squandermaniacs of Rome spent the treasury moneys in vast boondoggling schemes the veterans of the Roman wars were left to beg their way for bread and lodging all over the Roman territories.

Is the United States of America to be numbered among the "ungrateful" Republics?

We hope not—and so does every true American.

We have been in the war but two years. Many of our men have already been honorably mustered out, some wounded, some sick, some homeless, some almost penniless.

We hear that many Congressmen are "irate" over this condition of things.

To be "irate" is not enough.

It will not support a discharged veteran for a second.

Congress is about to reassemble.

The members will return to Washington January 10, after a holiday vacation which was taken at the delay of pending legislation to provide adequate and decent mustering-out pay for our veterans.

IT WAS A VACATION TAKEN AT THE EXPENSE OF THE SICK, THE WOUNDED, THE MENTALLY HARRIED MEN WHO OFFERED UP THEIR HEALTH AND THEIR LIVES FOR THE LIFE OF THE NATION.

DESPITE a nationwide storm of protest aroused when the Hearst newspapers exposed the disgraceful treatment of our veterans, no action was taken before Christmas.

The Senate partially performed its duty by passing a mustering-out bill which, though inadequate, is capable of revision.

The House, principally due to the dilatory, delaying tactics of Chairman Andrew J. May of the Military Affairs Committee, failed even to bring a measure to the floor.

So strong did the protest of millions of Americans become, however, that Mr. May was forced to promise that veterans' legislation will be the first order of business January 10.

THE NATION MUST SEE TO IT THAT THAT PROMISE IS KEPT.

NO CAUSE IS MORE SACRED.

NO DUTY IS MORE DEMANDING.

More than 700,000 veterans of World War II already have been discharged—honorably discharged after serving their country to the full measure of devotion and ability.

Honorably discharged after faithful and heroic service; but actually discharged without honor, without gratitude, without—in the case of many—even so much as the necessities for the maintenance of life!

Is this to be the gratitude of the richest Republic of the earth?

A Republic that has billions for Lend-Lease, billions for Latin America, multiple millions to feed and clothe the least peoples in the last corners of the earth?

Reverently and solemnly, we say, GOD FORBID!

CONGRESS has before it the Lemke Bill, which provides $100 upon discharge and continuation of base pay up to one year, depending upon length of service.

This or something akin to it is the least we can do for our veterans in honor and decency.

There must be no more delay, no more sidetracking, no more casuistic debate of half-measures, no more feeble excuses.

The responsibility falls squarely on the Congress.

It falls specifically on the House Military Affairs Committee and its chairman, Mr. May.

The Hearst newspapers suggest to all their readers, to all Americans who have a loved one in the service, about to enter the service, or discharged from the service, that they write or better telegraph immediately to their own Congressmen and to Rep. Andrew J. May, chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

This is still a people's government.

The people must demand justice.

THEY MUST FOLLOW THROUGH TO SEE THAT JUSTICE IS DONE.

Let us put our defenders on their feet in every way when they leave the service.

They should be free of immediate money worries.

They should be clothed.

Jobs should be found for them.

Our defenders should become the first men of the Republic, not the forgotten last men, not the hurt, neglected and disillusioned members of the "Unwanted Battalion."

AT MY RANCH, when I get a ranch, I will have my personal hall of fame. In it will be pictures of the people I admire and have admired. I will also have pictures of a few horses, to say nothing of several dogs. Under each picture I will have a four-line poem. What do you think of the above to put under the picture of Helen Morgan? . . . "Do you make up the quaint names you mention?" asks a subscriber. Certainly not. Take the name of Polly Wog. That is a charming matron of Missoula, Mont. I just received a Christmas card from Polly and her husband Ollie . . . It has been discovered that women are not strong enough to be bus drivers in New York. That doesn't surprise me. Not many men are really strong enough for that job which consists of driving for miles through heavy traffic, stopping at every block, opening and shutting doors, collecting fares, making change, issuing transfers and answering questions.

ASIDES: In the 1944 Presidential election, 60 per cent of the votes will be cast by women. So states a student of the matter. He is probably right. This shows you how important it is for political candidates to understand women. I hope those in that activity are taking advantage of the research of our Horses & Women Department . . . That crack about having a suppressed desire to throw an egg into an electric fan has been credited to Mark Twain, Irvin Cobb, O. O. McIntyre, Dorothy Parker and Fannie Hurst. However, the originator was Oliver Herford.

PASSING BY: Ada Leonard, Smart looking leader of an all-girl band. Some girl leaders of bands do not know how to play any instruments and know nothing of music. Ada, however, can play several instruments. In addition to furnishing music, the Leonard band puts on a fashion show changing costumes between numbers. A clever idea. But it can stand improvement. They should play one series of numbers in which each girl has on a different hat.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: How many members will the American Legion have after this war? Possibly more than 10 million. It is going to be a very powerful factor in the postwar period . . . The Boeing organization, originator and maker of the Flying Fortress, will manufacture an automobile after the war . . . "The camera does not favor the outside horse," writes C. S. Howard, owner of those noble animals Seabiscuit, Mioland and Kayak the Second. This is distinguished opposition to my claim that some cameras do favor the outside horse. When I go to San Francisco I shall lure Charlie into betting me a lunch at the Fairmont Hotel on it. Then I shall take him like Seabiscuit took War Admiral.

"Ah, this museum's so restful, after facing officers all week!"

WIVES! A feminine contemporary says it is the "demanding type" of wife and not the hard-working, home-loving wife who gets the mink coats, jewels, etc. Just plain bunk! I know a lot of women who have been hard-working and home-loving wives who have mink coats. The "demanding type" of wife only gets by with a jelly-fish type of man. A "demanding wife" married to a regular fellow has a good chance of ending up in the divorce court.

LONG SHOT: "You once quoted some odds in what was styled the matrimonial handicap showing what chance women of various ages had of getting a husband," writes a Los Angeles subscriber. "Women of 40 were quoted as 30 to 1 chances. Well, sir, here is one long shot that came in. At the age of 40 I won the love of the wonderful man who is now my husband."

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday — I have a number of letters asking me why I am so interested in Negro housing in Washington when white people find it so difficult to get decent housing, not only in Washington, but in many other places in the United States. The answer is that there are more people to speak for white tenants than there are for colored tenants.

* * *

HERE ARE SOME REAL FACTS about colored housing in the District of Columbia. These facts could be duplicated in other places. There is a shortage of habitable homes for Negroes all over the country. Private builders in Washington are being used to construct 2767 homes for them.

The response of the builders is excellent because that there is a postwar market for medium and low-cost homes, both those built for buying and renting. Builders, however, are meeting with some unfortunate obstacles. In areas which have been long established as Negro, like the Garfield section in southeast Washington, there has been an infiltration of a few white families. Now, citizens' associations and property owners want to take over parts of these established Negro communities for white tenancy alone.

* * *

DEVIOUS WAYS can be used to achieve the object in view, namely, pushing the colored residents more and more into a segregated little city of their own. This area will be as far out as possible, where transportation and utilities will be less available.

This proposal to herd our citizens according to race and religion has many serious disadvantages and should be fought, I believe, by all people interested in the future peace and unity of our nation.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5—When a studio lets a 20-year-old 4-F slip through its fingers—that's news. And that is exactly what has happened with Republic snagging Paramount's Jimmy Lydon of the "Henry Aldrich" series.

Perhaps one thing that made Jimmy favor the Republic deal is his contract specifies he is to play no more shy young swains but will branch out as a full-fledged romantic leading man. Maybe he isn't ready to give Charles Boyer a run for his "great lover" honors, but it's a starter.

Rita Quigley

Jimmy is rated 4-F by his draft board because of a serious arm injury that took place when he was playing high school athletics. But he has four brothers in the service, so no one can say the Lydon family has not given its share to Uncle Sam.

IT'S BEEN JUST a year since Robert Walker clicked in "Bataan" and it might be added the past 12 months have been both good and bad for him. He is faring all right at M-G-M, although I can't see that he has been a particular skyrocket. However, he gets a role right up his street in "30 Seconds Over Tokyo," that of Sergt. Bob Thatcher, the only non-commissioned officer to go on that bombing flight. His bad breaks were his unfortunately timed separation from Jennifer Jones, which didn't do either any good, and a role in "Madame Curie" that proved Walker needs careful casting.

LEONARD SILLMAN, whose "New Faces" was such a sensation in New York a few seasons ago, is planning to bring his musical to Hollywood. This time he'll take the best tunes from the several musicals he has produced and combine them in one show. He and about 10 of his company called on me and played the songs. It was quite an afternoon. Sillman is interested in having Patricia Van Cleve (Mrs. Arthur Lake) in one of the important spots, and it was Pat who really brought him to my house. Some of his songs are mighty catchy.

Rita is one actress who does not believe marriage and movies mix, so when she becomes Mrs. Goehner she will say adieu to films. She and her sister Juanita are being tested for the sister roles in "National Velvet" at M-G-M and this may be her last motion picture. The lieutenant came from Burlingame, where he is stationed, over the week-end to give Rita the engagement ring and obtain her parents' blessing, which was forthcoming.

'Guadalcanal Diary' Opens Tomorrow at Metropolitan

"Guadalcanal Diary," based on War Correspondent Richard Tregaskis' best selling book of the same title, makes its local debut Thursday on the Metropolitan screen.

PRESTON FOSTER in "Guadalcanal Diary," a film based on Dick Tregaskis' powerful book about fighting Marines, opening Thursday at the Metropolitan.

"The Good Fellows," a Paramount comedy, with Helen Walker, James Brown and Cecil Kellaway, will be the companion picture.

Twentieth Century Fox is said to have faithfully followed in line and detail Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary." It has entrusted the portrayal of its characters to a cast headed by Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte, and Anthony Quinn, and including Richard Jaeckel, Roy Roberts, Minor Watson, Ralph Byrd, and Lionel Stander. Lewis Seiler directed, with Bryan Foy in charge of production.

In outline, "Guadalcanal Diary" is the saga of the campaign against the Japs' strongholds at Guadalcanal and Tulagi that marked the first land offensive in the war against the Japs. While the picture is a vivid filming of the determined, relentless battles, it also captures the indomitable, wise-cracking spirit which so characterizes the Marines in the heart of America.

Wild West Film Due at Par-Fen

"The Woman of the Town," United Artist's intimate story of the life and loves of Bat Masterson, the fast-shooting marshall of the west's lawless Dodge City, will have its first local showing at the Paramount and Fenway theaters starting tomorrow. Claire Trevor, in the title role, shares starring honors with Albert Dekker and Barry Sullivan.

Sharing first-run screen honors will be "Nearly Eighteen," the behind-the-scenes story of a talented young beauty's efforts to crash the Broadway musical stage, featuring Gale Storm and Bill Henry.

"The Woman of the Town" is the two-fisted drama of a man who brought law and order to America's wild frontier.

Seats Now on Sale For 'Cherry Orchard'

Seats for the two-week engagement, beginning next Monday evening, of Chekhov's world-famous comedy, "The Cherry Orchard," with Eva Le Gallienne and Joseph Schildkraut, will go on sale today at the Wilbur Theater.

This new production, sponsored by Carly Wharton and Margaret Webster for the Broadway season, has been lavishly contrived in celebration of the 40th anniversary of the premiere of this greatest of Russian comedies.

Ethel Smith to Play

Ethel Smith, swing organist, will be the featured performer at Sunday's Copley Plaza Cocktail Concert from 4 to 6:30, with Paul Winters and his orchestra in a program of light and popular music.

ANOTHER WAR ROMANCE of interest to Boston society is that of Capt. Harold B. Willis, Jr., USA, of Weston, who is stationed at Columbia, S. C., air base and is marrying a Columbia society belle at a picturesque southern wedding next Saturday. His future bride is Eva Gwathmey Hampton, who made her debut at the 1941 Assembly Ball in Columbia and the St. Cecelia in Charleston, most famous of southern debut balls.

Capt. Willis is the son of Col. H. B. Willis, now serving overseas, and Mrs. Willis, who is on her way to Columbia for the wedding. His sister, Mrs. Gilbert T. Wilkinson (Hannah Willis), who was married in November, will also attend the wedding.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE PEABODY GARDNER of Green Hill, Brookline, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Isabella Van Kirk, to Maurice Seymour of Chicago, yesterday afternoon in Los Angeles. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William M. Hayes of Ojai, Cal., and a reception was given afterward by Mr. and Mrs. Hayes (Catharine Gardner). The newlyweds will honeymoon in Mexico and make their home in Chicago.

Skouras to Spur Film Bond Drive

Charles Skouras, national chairman for the 4th war loan drive of the motion picture industry, will address a mass meeting of New England film exhibitors at the Hotel Statler Friday at 10 a. m., it was announced today.

The meeting, called by Samuel Pinanski, New England chairman, will present motion picture theater owners and managers with the opportunity of formulating a series of war bond sales promotions in co-operation with the Treasury Department.

One plan to be discussed is to sell a war bond for every theater seat in the New England States, together with stars' appearances, rallies, special bond premieres, special "nights" and stage auctions.

Praise Hearst Press For Aid to Veterans

Telegrams complimenting the Hearst newspapers for raising funds for wounded and sick servicemen include the following:

W. R. HEARST:

Our primarily most solemn obligation is to the veterans of this war who are fighting on battle fronts throughout the world to preserve our liberty.

The work which the Hearst newspapers are doing to help discharge this obligation is simply marvelous. It is a great example of complete Americanism and I want to congratulate you on the splendid job that is being done.

The raising of $355,000 is a great step in fulfilling a responsibility that all of us have on the home front toward the men and women of our armed services.

GOV. DWIGHT H. GREEN,
State of Illinois.

★ ★ ★

W. R. HEARST:

On behalf of the 96,000 Legionnaires in the State of Illinois, I want to compliment you for the outstanding effort extended in raising $355,000 to aid those who have suffered wounds and disease so that every one may live as free people.

And I feel sure that the mothers and fathers of the millions of service men always will be grateful.

LEONARD W. ESPER,
District Commander,
American Legion, State of Illinois.

★ ★ ★

W. R. HEARST:

Through the fund you raised for the wounded and ill servicemen you have rendered a great service. The fighting men deserve the best care as they receive their wounds in the defense of our country, often time fighting far from home and with uncertainty about their families and not knowing whether they themselves will come back.

CHAPLAIN HANSEL TOWER,
Navy Pier, Chicago.

★ ★ ★

W. R. HEARST:

You have earned the heartiest thanks of the servicemen of the nation. I have personally noted your great contribution to them by raising throughout the country through your newspapers such a great sum of money for the wounded and sick servicemen. In these times very little attention is being paid to the wounded men by some agencies. We must not only THINK of the wounded, but we MUST do everything possible for them. We must give them the things the Army and Navy doesn't give them. I also note through the Chicago Herald-American the great service papers are rendering in the battle for the welfare of our nation's youth. My sincerest good wishes to you for a truly happy new year.

EDWARD S. SCHEFFLER,
Chief Justice Municipal Court of Chicago.

W. R. HEARST:

With the dawn of the new year I want to extend to you my warmest greetings, and my sincere commendation for your devotion to momentous questions affecting the public welfare. Your deep interest in co-ordinating civic agencies to stimuate ways and means to solve the problem of juvenile delinquency especially comes to my mind at this time. As mayor of Chicago I want to thank you personally for the intelligent co-operation we are receiving through the Chicago Herald-American, which is naturally concerned, as are all of us, with the winning of the war, its victorious conclusion as speedily as possible, and the welfare of our armed forces. In this connection your newspapers have shown special interest in fighting for recognition for our service men now and particularly when they return to civil life.

EDWARD J. KELLY,
Mayor of Chicago.

Elephant Boy Sabu Becomes U. S. Citizen

BALTIMORE, Jan. 5 (AP) — Sabu, the youthful movie star known popularly as "the elephant boy," became a United States citizen at naturalization proceedings in federal court.

A native of India, and now a member of Uncle Sam's Army stationed at Fort George G. Meade, Md., Pfc. Sabu Dastagir was one of 28 soldiers, representing 13 countries, admitted to citizenship.

certain that Congress is in the mood to demand its earliest consideration."

THRIFT DECLARED

Other congressmen voiced the increasing sentiment that if America is pledged to spend billions for people in the far corners of the earth, she must not begrudge her discharged soldiers sufficient money to meet their needs as they try to readjust into civilian life.

"Let's not pinch pennies when we provide for America's 'Unwanted Battlion,'" said Congressman Leon H. Gavin of Pennsylvania. Congressman Paul Shafer of Michigan concurred and added:

"It is true that our national debt is mounting toward staggering figures, and that it is unwise to add many more billions to it.

"But we can provide for our veterans without doing so. Let's pull in our horns on all of the astronomical plans for the relief of everybody else in the world.

"Let's take some of the billions earmarked for Latin America; some of the billions that we are pledged to pour out in world stabilization, in a world court, in world-wide relief and rehabilitation, in all of a thousand and one fantastic aspects of the proposed world WPA and give them to our boys."

PUTS VETERANS FIRST

If we can spend billions in other countries, he insisted, we can ill afford to overlook the needs of the men who have gone through hell to save America and her riches. Shafer declared:

"Every one of those boys, if you want to look at it that way, has a stake in the wealth of this country. He has fought, and offered his life, to protect it.

"And he certainly has first call on it over a Pole, a Czech, a Greek, an Arabian, a Chinese, or any other foreigner—no matter how worthy the foreign cause may be."

Rep. Gavin declared that the "freedoms" of the Atlantic Charter must be applied first at home. He said:

"We hear a lot of talk about freedom from fear and from want for all the world.

"Let's give those freedoms first to our own battlescarred veterans."

New Bill Ready On Service Vote

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Sen. Lucas (D.) of Illinois offered a new absentee vote bill for service personnel today in place of the leave-it-to-the-states resolution which the Senate substituted for his original measure.

He announced he would formally introduce his revised proposal Monday.

The Illinois Senator still wants a federal ballot commission, but its powers would be almost entirely administrative. The four-man, bi-partisan commission would prepare ballots, turn them over to the Army and Navy, and after they had been filled out, transmit them to the 48 secretaries of state.

Local election officials would not have to account back to the commission for ballots received.

Newtonville Pilot Wins Air Medal

A Newtonville air ace, Marine Lieut. Robert M. Hanson, 23, of Brooks dr., has been decorated with the Air Medal in the South Pacific, it was revealed today.

Presentation of the citation, signed by Adm. William F. Halsey, was made for "meritorious achievements while participating in aerial attacks against the enemy."

Strike One!

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—Two gunmen in a West Side shoe store last night paid scant attention to the aged man behind the counter.

One bandit pulled a gun on the clerk, John Heyduk. Heyduk, who is 80, knocked the gun from the robber's hand.

When the bandit stooped to retrieve it, Heyduk reached under the counter, grabbed a baseball bat and clubbed him. The second robber helped his dazed companion from the store.

Amazing Cough Relief, Mixed In Your Kitchen

No Trouble. No Cooking. Saves Big Dollars.

Yes, ma'am, right in your own kitchen, you can easily mix a cough medicine that is a wonder for quick results, and gives you about four times as much for your money. And it's no trouble—a child could do it.

You'll need a syrup. Make it by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Now get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a pint bottle. Then add your syrup. There you have a full pint of really remarkable medicine for coughs due to colds. It lasts a family a long time. Tastes fine—children love it.

And does it do the work! You'll say it beats anything you ever tried. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

To get their extra-delicious flavor . . . their genuine, old-fashioned, New England goodness . . . B & M Brick-Oven Baked Beans (unlike the ordinary kind) must bake ever-so-slowly, all day long, in brick ovens and in open bean pots.

Remember that. And, whenever your Grocer is temporarily out of these hearty, better-tasting B & M Brick-Oven Baked Beans, bear in mind his supply is limited . . . and please be patient. Burnham & Morrill Company, Portland 2, Maine.

Crisis Grows in Nation's Need for More Waste Paper

Need for more vigorous prosecution of the paper salvage campaign was seen today following a report by B. C. Waters, Jr., executive secretary of the Massachusetts Salvage Committee, that the shortage has become so acute that transportation of vital supplies to our armed forces is being seriously delayed by a shortage of containers.

Waters declared the present shortage is on a par with the acute scrap iron shortage of 1942, when some 50 steel mills were forced to remain idle for lack of scrap.

Included among the supplies now being held up because of lack of containers are medications of every sort, and the shortage could even imperil the shipments of blood plasma.

Punch, Speed Needed To Beat Louis, Says Arcel

By JACK CONWAY

RAY ARCEL WAS adjusting the gloves to George (Sonny) Horne's dukes as the latter prepared to go through a workout at Harry Kelly's Gym for his ten-round bout with hard thumping Henry Chmielewski in a Callahan A. C. show at Mechanics Building tomorrow night.

"What kind of a fighter will it take to beat Joe Louis," I asked Arcel who has seconded ten different heavyweights in losing bouts with the "Brown Bomber."

"The man who beats Joe Louis will have to be fast and also a puncher," was the quick reply. "Billy Conn was the ideal choice, but Louis' sock finally caught up with him.

"I have seen ten boxers I seconded stopped by Louis. Buddy Baer was twice kayoed by the champion. I think I can appreciate Louis' amazing ability as a boxer and puncher more than most people."

"Of the boxers you seconded recently. He appears to be in good condition, but, of course, has lost some of his co-ordination as a result of his long layoff from active boxing. Louis' history proves he needs plenty of actual boxing to keep on edge."

★ ★ ★

Horne Boxes 4 Rounds

HORNE BOXED two rounds with Tony Martin of the Coast Guard and two more with Phil Reagan. Horne boxed well, but looked a bit heavy.

"Horne weighs 167 pounds," said Arcel. "This is 10 pounds more than he scaled when he fought Larry Pacino. Life in the Merchant Marine caused Horne to pack on weight. When Sonny returned from sea duty, he scaled 188 pounds. There was a chef aboard Horne's ship who kept feeding him the best possible food, and the sea air gave him a terrific appetite."

Ray Arcel, trainer, and George (Sonny) Horne

Arcel supported Horne's claim of injuries received in service with certificates from the Marine Hospital in New York where Sonny was confined for 10 days with a back injury.

"The injury occurred aboard ship while Sonny was on convoy duty," said Arcel. "There was a fire drill, and Horne was knocked down and injured his back. Horne was on a ship loaded with high octane gas. Two of the ships in his convoy were sunk in the North Atlantic."

Horne plans to box Henry Chmielewski tomorrow night.

"I am faster than Chimmy and a much better boxer," said Horne. "I may not hit as hard as Chimmy, but I promise he won't nail me on the chin as he did Jackie Caparell."

Horne isn't worrying about Chimmy's ability as a hitter. One doesn't concern himself over the hardest punch after having spent eight weeks dodging torpedoes at sea.

"I saw Louis in New York recently against Louis, which ones hurt him the most?" I queried.

"Jimmy Braddock in the first round of his title bout with Louis at Chicago, and Buddy Baer when he slammed the champion through the ropes in their tussle in Washington," replied Arcel. "With a strict interpretation of the rules, Baer would have been declared champion in the Washington tussle. The Louis kayo was scored after the bell. True, Joe didn't hear the bell, but the rules don't give any out for that. The fact he landed his winning smash after the bell sounded entitled Baer to the decision on a foul.

"A weaving, bobbing fighter who is a good boxer and who could hit a bit would make a perfect man to back to beat Louis. Al McCoy, if two or three years younger at the time, would have beaten Louis the night he fought him in the Boston Garden. McCoy gave Louis a great deal of trouble and had the champion missing so much he stopped throwing right hand punches. Joe told me in the dressing room after the match that Al made him feel silly by the ease with which he got away from his right hand socks."

Dempsey vs. Louis

I ASKED ARCEL how Jack Dempsey at his best would have done against Louis.

"Dempsey might have beaten Louis," responded Ray. "Dempsey was fast and could punch, but I have seen him run out of gas. You cannot run out of gas and beat Joe Louis. He'll knock your brains out if you slow down for a second. Remember what happened to Billy Conn in the 13th round?

"A fighter to beat Louis must be able to take a wallop as Joe always scores. Bob Pastor is fast and clever, but Louis caught up with him. One must add a punch to skill and speed to win from the Brown Bomber.

9 School Fatalities In '43 Grid Season

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 5 (AP)—Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Purdue said today there were 10 fatalities in the 1943 football season but none was due to college games.

Dr. Eastwood's report said last season was the second in 12 years the college sport had been without a fatality.

Nine 1943 fatalities were among members of high school teams. One was on an athletic club eleven.

Bruins Give Flash Hollett To Red Wings for Egan

By BILL GRIMES

The Boston Bruins today traded defenseman Flash Hollett to the Detroit Red Wings for defenseman Martin Joseph "Pat" Egan.

Art Ross of the Bruins announced it was a straight exchange No cash was involved. It was the most sensational bit of hockey trading news to be given the Bostoon fans since Ross sold Tiny Thompson to the same Detroit club in December of 1938 and installed Frank Brimsek in the Boston goal.

Ross said: "I've always thought Pat Egan should play in Boston. Now he is here. He gives us the hardest hitting defense in the league. I know Pat will be satisfied with his new teammates.

He will join the Brins in Toronto Saturday and he will report in Boston Thursday, Jan. 13, two days before our next home game with the New York Rangers.

HOLLETT BRUINS VET

"Flash Hollett has played with the Bruins for nine seasons. He has been a valuable man for us and we hope he continues to be just as valuable and outstanding in Detroit."

It is expected that Manager Jack Adams of Detroit will order Flash to report to him in New York tomorrow, when the Wings play the Rangers there.

Hollett's outstanding ability has long been recognized by other clubs. Earlier in the season the New York Rangers reported that they offered Ross $25,000 for Hollett.

Egan is the one player in the National League considered to have the all-around ability to become the second "Eddie Shore," whose old Boston No. 2 he will wear.

He is only 25 years old, is a tremendous rusher, a good defense player, a hard checker. He has 10 years of major league play ahead of him. His temperament is particularly suited to playing with the Boston club the way Ross runs it.

Garden Packed as B's Grab 2d in Fast Tilt

Although they made enough mistakes to lose the verdict, the Bruins finally came through with a 6-to-4 win over the Chicago Blackhawks last night at the Bisten Garden and took full possession of second place in the N. H. L. race, breaking away from the Maple Leafs, who were beaten by Les Canadiens.

For the third straight game, the Bruins played to a capacity house and the 13,500 cash customers witnessed a fast, wide open, free scoring contest.

Herbie Cain, Art Jackson, Bill Hollett and Dit Clapper did the scoring for the Bruins and Clint Smith, Doug Bentley, Cully Dahlstrom and Fido Purpur, of the Hawks, beat Bert Gardiner. Cain and Jackson scored twice, the former ringing up his 25th and 26th goals, while Clapper, along with his goal, got two assists, as did Bill Cowley, Buz Boll and Guy Labrie, up from the Olympics.

By virtue of his two assists, Bill Cowley now has 53 points, just 20 short of the all time record, which is held jointly by Cooney Weiland and Doug Bentley.

Since Cowley has 25 games to play, he's a cinch to shatter the present standard, barring injury.

Cowley's two assists last night did give him one world mark, an all time assist total of 258. Going into last night's battle he was tied with record holder Frank Boucher, who ran up his total over some 12 years.

Although they were tied at the end of the second period, the Bruins were never behind after Art Jackson caged the equalizer in the opening chapter. They led the Hawks 3 to 2 at the first intermission and chalked up the odd tallies in the final period.

Canadiens Rake Leafs For 7th Straight Win

Montreal's Canadiens grabbed NHL attention today with their seventh straight victory, a 6-to-3 conquest of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Canadiens had little difficulty in extending the longest winning streak of the season.

The New York Rangers announced a deal with Buffalo of the American League that brings Bob Dill, rugged defenseman, to Madison Square Garden. Dill, under suspension for striking an official, comes to the Rangers in exchange for Gordon Davidson and Roger Leger.

In addition Buffalo received the rights to two western Canadian amateurs on the Rangers' negotiation list, Jack Horeck and Harry Taylor. No cash was involved.

Phils' Head Backs Majors in Canada

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5 (AP) — Northward into Canada, not westward, is the logical direction for major league baseball to expand, contends Bob Carpenter, Jr., youthful president of the Phillies. The youngest major league president in the game turned thumbs down on the proposed westward expansion of big league baseball today when he said:

"Why not give Canada a chance to get big league baseball?"

GOOD TOWNS FOR GAME

Montreal and Toronto are both "good baseball towns" the Phillies president said. "It would further our good neighbor policy by inviting two Canadian cities into membership of the American and National Leagues—if and when such franchises are available."

Peter Campbell, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs in the International League, replied to Carpenter's suggestion with the statement:

"Toronto is the best sporting town on the North American continent, outside of Brooklyn and Chicago, but there is no chance of making a go of major league baseball as long as we can't play baseball on Sundays."

Campbell offered as other obstacles to Carpenter's proposal Toronto's comparatively cold climate and the necessity of playing most Toronto games at night.

BACKS MORE NIGHT BALL

In reference to night games Carpenter said he believes major league baseball will be "played mostly at night during the next five years." At present major league teams are restricted to a limited number of night games a season.

The only exceptions to the all-night schedule of the future, Carpenter thinks, will be afternoon games on Saturday, Sunday doubleheaders and holiday twin bills.

The Phillies' president said he would like to see his club play more than the alloted 14 night games for the coming season.

"I'm new at this job," he said, "and as becomes a newcomer I just sat there and listened when they gave the Phillies their share of night games. If I'm still around next year I'll see what we can do about it."

Clark Griffith Again Heads Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Stockholders of the Washington baseball club re-elected Clark Griffith for his 24th term as president and named his 32-year-old nephew, Calvin Griffith, as vice-president.

President Griffith called the 1943 season the "most profitable" for the club in 10 years, both from the standpoint of revenue and home attendance. The Senators drew 583,000 fans to home games.

Hub Boy, 19, at Pensacola Seen Louis' Successor

By HUCK FINNEGAN

PENSACOLA, Fla., Jan. 5—If you can believe athletic officers stationed at the main naval air base here, the successor to world heavyweight champion Joe Louis will be a Boston boy—one Barney Moran from Dorchester. And isn't that an ideal name for a fighter! Moran is an enlisted man, a second class seaman, and is only 19 years of age. A novice at boxing when he arrived here, he developed fast enough to win the Golden Gloves championship last March and later cleaned up every opponent of note at rival naval air training centers, Corpus Christi and Jacksonville. Lieut.-Col. George Potsy Clark and Lieut. Jim Birr of Indiana are particularly high on the youngster and will see to it that he gets proper tutoring as he advances up the ladder . . . "You'll see plenty of big league ball players developed at this base also," Clark insisted. "Our athletic competition runs all year round and includes every sport on the calendar. The sports boom after the first war will seem picayune in comparison to the one you'll see after this one," Clark predicted.

1000 Bostonians

Lieut. Lauri Peterson, freshman swimming coach at Harvard for six years prior to the war, is attached to Clark's staff of 59, and Lauri takes you over to the swimming pool where he points with pride to the "Dilbert Dunker." This contraption was originally the cockpit of an airplane. Set above the tank it races into the water at a 20-mile-an-hour speed, simulating a crash landing. They think of everything here. Lauri shows you the rubber boats, which seat from one man to 16, and tells you the first test a naval flying cadet takes here is to swim 50 minutes in the tank, making progress all the time. "Equivalent of a mile," says Peterson.

You meet Joe McDonald of Salem, who used to play golf at Myopia. Joe is now golf coach for the enlisted men . . . And who's that approaching but Lieut. Jack Carr, former soccer coach at Harvard and Boston lawyer. He's a judge advocate . . . "There're a thousand Bostonians here," says Jack, and he rips off the names of Lieut. Russ Allen, '36 Harvard football captain; Sarah Palfrey, here with her husband, Lieut. Elwood Cooke; Lieut. Bob Lassiter, who captained Yale in Allen's Harvard era; Elmer Ward, Jr., a Tarmac who will enter Williams or Wesleyan shortly for his preflight training; George Pantano, quarterback and basketball captain at Boston University three years ago; Wilbur Storer, Pat Hanley's first quarterback at BU; Bill Gibson, BU hockey player; Larry Thornton from Boston College, the singer; Art Johns, former Harvard baseball captain . . . And you meet Gene Lyall, handsome young cousin of Frank Ryan's, and then Alex Welch, BU hurdler and later track coach. Most are lieutenants (junior grade).

You discover that Alex was married last summer to Barbara Thompson, and Alex drives you to his suburban home where "Bobby" throws another steak on the fire and a fine time is had by all. "Tell Hap Kern we expect an heir shortly," says Alex . . . And you wish you had time to stay around and meet the myriad Boston boys or to get out to Bronson Field to see Bob Kennedy of the White Sox, but your pass expires, and it is time to go.

But no pass is needed to visit Russ Scarritt, Red Sox left fielder before Ted Williams ever went to high school. Russ is assistant service manager of the Muldon Motor Co. and doing extremely well. "No time for hunting and fishing like I had when playing ball," smiles Russ. You meet his wife and three boys, and if Ted (14) isn't an all-America football player some scout is missing a good bet. A marvelous physical specimen. Russ tells you Nig Bragan of the Dodgers, John Hutchings (former Brave) and Dixie Walker, Dodgers, all started their baseball careers in Pensacola like himself . . . You remember Russ as a good left-handed batter and you try to recall his team-mates in that '29-'31 period. He rattles off such names as Phil Todt, Billy Regan, Hal Rhyne and Otis Miller, Charlie Berry and Johnny Heving, Tom Oliver, Earl Webb and himself, Big Ed Morris, Jack Russell, Milton Gaston, Danny MacFayden and Charlie Ruffing.

Infield Was Porous

With that pitching you wonder why the Sox finished eighth, and Russ tells you the infield was porous. "In '29 alone we lost 30 games by one run. I can recall the club blowing a four-run lead in the ninth just by infield errors. Carrigan was a good manager and a fair one," Russ added. He played for Heinie Wagner in '30 and got along well with the tractable Dutchman but Shauno Collins took over in '31 and kept Russ on the bench while he tried out fellows like Gene Rye and Tom Winsett and finally released him. After a few years of minor league ball Russ quit the game and repaired to his Pensacola home. He's a fine-looking man of 41 today and looks capable of playing good baseball . . . You ask him to name an all-star team from that '29-'30 era and he picks Gehrig, Gehringer, Cronin and Kamm for his infield; Ruth, Combs and Manush for his outfield; Mickey Cochrane for catcher; Pennock, Grove, Earnshaw and Lyons for his pitchers. ("I ought to get Sammy West into that outfield, too, but where can I put him?") He puts in an extra plug for Charlie Gehringer and hopes the writers see fit to place him in the Hall of Fame. He tells you Ed Morris got killed in a fish fry at nearby Flomaton, Ala., and you keep fanning and fanning until you say to yourself: "For the luvva Mike, I'll never get back to town." So you bid Russ and family adieu, note the address: Route 1, Box 155-C, Pensacola, Fla., and you realize you are a long, long way from home.

Bowser to Pick Bout Referee

Promoter Paul Bowser will name the referee for the duration championship wrestling bout tonight when the Golden Terror, titlist, and Rebel Bob Russell—both suspecting each other of employing secret weapons—collide in the feature of the weekly show at the Arena.

The match will mark the second stand by the 379-pound Terror in defense of his crown.

The Terror, according to the fans and the press experts, was guilty of calling on some sort of a secret weapon three weeks ago in downing Big Ben Morgan. Russell has pointed out this fact to Promoter Bowser with a demand that the referee be instructed to watch out for such trickery so that there will be no repetition in this championship tussle.

STAGG CLAIMS ARMY ERRED IN GRID BAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg the "young" man who went West and found a new coaching career at 71, believes that some colleges which abandoned football last year will resume it next fall.

Voted coach of the year by the National Association of Football Writers, Stagg was back here today receiving plaudits from old friends of his University of Chicago days.

The "Grand Old Man of the Midway," coach of the Maroons for 41 years before he took over the football situation at little College of the Pacific 10 years ago, turned out one of the nation's strongest teams last fall.

VIGOROUS AT 81

At 81 he retains the enthusiasm and vigor of a man half his age. He sees the game as a splendid physical and mental conditioner, believes it should not be abandoned because of the war.

"We coaches who decided to carry on in 1943 made no mistake," he said. "The educators who discontinued the sport are the ones who made a mistake. However, some of the schools on the West Coast which discontinued athletics last year apparently are ready to resume next fall. I think Stanford will be one and several others up north also are ready to return."

He added that he thought the Army "made a mistake by not allowing its trainees to take part in intercollegiate sports. But maybe they'll make up for it next fall."

His Pacific eleven, composed of Navy V12 trainees "had only 45 minutes a day for practice and did very well" Stagg emphasized. The team lost only to Southern California and March Field.

AWARD GOLD FOOTBALL

Culminating a series of functions in his honor this week will be the award Saturday night of a gold football to the coach of the year. It will be presented between halves of the Chicago-De Paul basketball game by the order of the "C," a U. of C. lettermen's club Stagg founded during his tenure as Maroon grid mentor. Football was abandoned at the Midway several years ago.

Falcons Beat Brooklyn

BROOKLYN, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Philadelphia Falcons piled up a 4-0 lead, then withstood a last-period rally to beat the Brooklyn Crescents, 4 to 3, in an Eastern Hockey League game at the Brooklyn Ice Palace.

Silver Skates Entries Spurt

Early entries for the famed Silver Skates Derby indicate a healthy increase in Greater Boston contestants over past years.

While it is true that there will be a batch of entries from such organizations as the Rhode Island Skating Club, North Adams Skating Club, Mirror Lake Skating Club of Fitchburg, and scattered groups from New Hampshire, Maine and Connecticut, the bulk of the speed skaters will come from a 20-mile radius of Boston.

Yesterday's mail brought in 15 entries and the furthest of this group came from Framingham. However, there are still about 400 entries due by the deadline which is Jan. 20 and at that time the actual blanks may tell a different story.

With a Jan. 20 deadline for the Derby which takes place at the Garden Jan. 30, skaters have until midnight two weeks from tomorrow to file their entries.

Wire Congress To Give Vets A Year's Pay

Wire your Congressman immediately to adopt legislation that will provide a year's pay for every honorably discharged service man as he is returned to civilian life.

Let's not have any bemedaled apple peddlers after this war.

Register your protest against the neglect of the wounded, disabled and mentally sick men of the armed forces who have been discharged without any provision for their care and treatment.

Telegraph your Congressman to act immediately to provide a year's pay for those brave men who have fought and bled to preserve the American way of life.

This is urgent. Telegraph today.

Gale Hits

Wintry winds on the North Atlantic make the business of operating an aircraft carrier a tipsy one . . . as the photo above shows you. The carrier was protecting a convoy when the storm struck.

As the Atlantic storm tosses the big carrier about, planes are securely lashed to the flight deck . . . but ready for the alarm that Nazi submarines may be in the vicinity.
